INTRODUCTION

Falmouth Public Library
Falmouth, Mass. 02540

Having been acknowledged by the faculty and administration as the most impressive class to be graduated from Falmouth High School, it stands to reason that our yearbook should be equally impressive. We have tried to capture the spirit of our class in this Clipper Compact. Our class has always worked together; from our first car wash to M*A*S*H, there has been an attitude of fun and a feeling of unified strength. Ours is the first class to overcome the imaginary barriers between cliques, and to become One. We are not, however, "dull" or "conforming." We are simply a closely-knit group of individualists. In the future, as we look through this yearbook, we will remember that we are still the Class of 1980, wherever we are.

Dedication

Our class advisor, Mr. Eugene C. Phillips, has been as much a part of the class of 1980 as the spirit and love we have shared. Entering Falmouth High as strangers, we managed to carry out many successful projects under the guidance of Mr. Phillips. He never dictated to the class; he allowed us to carry out our own ideas and was always there to give help and suggestions. He has said that he is glad to see us "carry on, with work, the army, or school; carry on with spirit, on and up. Sail on forever." We, Mr. Phillips, hope that you will always have smooth sailing, and we dedicate this yearbook to you.

A FOND FAREWELL TO . . .

Tom and Betty MacGregor have been an integral and important part of Falmouth High School for seven years. They have decided now to "graduate" with the class of 1980, and reside in Florida during the winter, returning to Falmouth for the summer season. In addition to holding the exhausting positions of security aides at FHS, they have also been the friendly faces we have turned to when our lockers were stuck, our lunches weren't quite right, or when we just needed tickets to a football game. They worked not only during school hours, but often well into the evening chaperoning class and club-sponsored events. Therefore it is no surprise that they intend not to retire, but to possibly manage a guest house in a college town. The class of 1980, along with the rest of Falmouth High School thanks the MacGregors and wishes them the best for the future.

THANKSGIVING PARADE

The Pep Squad marches by.

The theme for this year's annual parade was "A Kick Off With Disney." The Walt Disney theme was an attempt to encourage the junior high schools to enter the parade. The parade coordinators were Mr. Dennis Marotta, Mrs. Beverly Mangum, and the junior varsity and varsity cheerleaders. Greg Gonye and Maura McCarthy were this year's "Mr. and Miss Clipper." Lizzy Lynds and Frank Rose were elected first attendants, and Barbara Gonsalves and Keith Johnson were chosen second attendants. "Mr. and Miss Clipper" are chosen on the basis of school spirit and participation in school activities.

A sea of Pom-Poms!

Lizzy Lynds, Maura McCarthy, Barbara Gonsalves, Greg Gonye, and Keith Johnson.

Behind the leadership of coach Maureen O'Brien and tri-captains Leslie Daigle, Crista Jensen and Lorin Macedo, this year's field hockey team recorded another outstanding season. The team qualified for the state tournament for the fifth straight year and finished a close second in the highly competitive SMC I with a 6-2-2 record.

The Clippers breezed through the first half of the season virtually unscored upon until an unexpected 1-0 loss to D-Y ended a 28 game undefeated streak and the Clippers return to their usual aggressive highly skilled level of play to defeat D-Y 1-0. The win also put Falmouth into state tournament play.

Not only did the team experience the thrill of victory and the agony of defeat, but found, time after time, the qualities synonymous with FHS field hockey; spirit, pride, enthusiasm, and determination.

All-Stars were wing Leslie Daigle (3rd year honors), halfback Jean Nolen, and inner Linda Bevelander. Awards went to Shari Patch: unsung hero, senior Stephanie Pine: most improved, senior Leslie Daigle: most valuable offense, and junior Jean Nolen: most valuable defense. Much credit also goes to coach O'Brien, high scorer Crista Jensen, goalie Lorin Macedo, along with the entire team for a successful season.

GIRLS' CROSS COUNTRY

The 1979 Girls Cross Country season is looked back upon as a rebuilding season. Coach John Carroll felt that this was due to the lack of participants. Although, he said that those who ran were able to hold their own through the season. The girls finished second in the D-Y Invitational, and were ninth in the Eastern Mass. Division II Meet. They split their two dual meets by beating Barnstable, but losing to D-Y. The season ended with a pleasing place in the Cape Cod Championship. Coach Carroll said that, "Maryann Marschall was the best point of the season". She ran an impressive 11th at the State Class Meet.

Coach's Comment

By any standards other than the ones we set for ourselves, 1979 was a first-rate year for cross country at FHS. This team made constant progress throughout the season, and I believe we were all sorry to see it end.

Dan Oldale and Nick Meade captained this ship. They led well, ran well, were first-class all season. Along with Pete Mello, they comprise this coach's first graduating class. I only hope we keep finding others like these three.

Robert Peters had his troubles early on, but became a pretty tough guy late in the season. Scott Ghelfi took a giant step toward the top of the lineup. He carried us, without much help, through some rough spots in the early meets.

Eric Mello and Todd Scuza walked right onto the varsity, no easy task for sophomores. Ready Teddy Farrell was close behind, and may be the best of the lot before he's through.

Then there's the Mahoney. Brian is the best distance runner we've ever had, a tireless worker, and one of the state's true heavyweights. In truth the good stuff on this team wouldn't be happening without him.

The 1979 Soccer season was a highly successful one. In season play the team showed very well, qualifying for tournament play. The first round found Falmouth beating Xaverian 2-1, but losing to New Bedford 4-0 in the second round. All-Stars were Mark Thompson and . The season earmarked Coach Toran's twentieth year of coaching, he was later selected Coach of the Year.

ANIMALS

Greg Gonye and Keith Johnson steal the Barnstable banner on Thanksgiving.

The Animals were revived this year after a long absence by a spirited group led by Keith Johnson. Keith put his artistic ability to work and designed a logo which was printed on sweatshirts for the members. The group also helped promote school spirit by silk-screening the emblem onto students' t-shirts free of charge for "Get Syked" Day. The Animals were a rowdy group at this year's hockey games, and, evident by the picture above, played a most important role at the Thanksgiving Day game.

"Honorary" animal Miss Connolly shows her spirit on "Get Syked" Day.

NURSERY

Denise Mongeau and "Kooky Kat"

Falmouth High's nursery not only adds "young blood" to the yearbook, but provides valuable experience for those students planning a career in child care. Whether the children are dressed for Halloween, singing songs together, or just quietly listening to a story, they give a warm and happy feeling to anyone who visits.

ONE-ACT PLAYS

This fall, Falmouth High's Performing Arts department expanded its list of productions to include a presentation of three one-act plays. The first, "Danish Soap" deals with Shakespeare wishing to spark up new interest in his Hamlet by staging it as a modern daytime serial or "Soap".

The second, "Games", shows four women, who had been childhood friends, at a reunion discussing how different they all were, how much age had changed them. But, using the techniques of "flash backs" the play showed how they really had not changed at all, but still relied on the same games.

The third and final play was "Fumed Oak" in which a quiet man who has lived too long with his nagging wife, mother-in-law, and daughter, revolts against them and informs them of how miserable they have made his life.

The one-acts were all well done and a credit to the acting department of the school.

Mr. Von Hentschel beams.

Chrome gleams.

Need Some more polish?

The annual Car Show arranged by Mr. Von Hentschel, the graphics classes, and Miss Doyle was a success. There was a fantastic variety of cars, motorcycles, and trucks. Entries ranged from "Golden Oldies" to very modern vans. Some entrants were "pros"; they had trophies and ribbons from previous shows prominently displayed. All who attended the Car Show, participants and onlookers alike, had a wonderful time.

Anyone going my way?

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Senior Class Advisor Eugene Phillips, Steve Tessier, Nina Murphy, Barbara Gonsalves.

The Senior Class led by advisor Eugene Phillips, Barbara Gonsalves, Steve Tessier, and Nina Murphy, President, Vice-President, and Secretary-treasurer respectively had a productive and busy year. The class of 1980 finally succeeded in pulling together and acting with spirit. This spirit was demonstrated by the enthusiastic participation in the Christmas Tree sales and our Senior Class Play "Mash." Barbara, Steve, and Nina did an excellent job in pulling the class together and organizing all activities. Mr. Phillips was invaluable and without his help our four years here at FHS would not have been as enjoyable. Mr. Phillips stuck with us even though at times his patience was wearing thin (Remember Senior Homeroom?!). In short our Senior year has been wonderful thanks to Mr. Phillips, Barbara, Steve, and Nina.

FHS's 1980 Hockey Team was, according to coach Jim O'Brian, a "pleasant surprise." With many new players shining in their varsity debuts, the season proved exciting with an SMCI League record of 10-1-1 which brought them into tournament play.

Falmouth's first play-off victory Canton sent them to the Garden where they defeated Bishop Fenwick to advance to the semi-finals against Westwood. Then ultimately Falmouth faced Barnstable for the finals in what critics called "an all-Cape affair." In this game it was Barnstable's turn, but Falmouth put up a fight before relinquishing their crown 4-1.

The most valuable player award must go to David Denton who was outstanding in the tourney, and against Barnstable. Sophomore Dick McEvoy is to be commended for his goal tending against Milton Academy and Canton. SMC I All-Stars are Shawn Chicoine, Mike Pellegrini, Fred Bohnenberger, and Jeff Connors.

The Varsity Basketball Team completed a very successful season. They finished the year with a combined record of 15-7. A 10-2 record in the league brought Falmouth the SMC III Championship, they participated in the state tournament for the third time in three years. The success of this team was a result of individual players giving themselves for the benefit of the team. Senior Co-Captains, Helmut Bryant and Chris Cardoza and seniors: Skip Blake, Chris Paine, Tom Wye, Mark Doucette epitomized this attitude.

Coach Bob Watson expresses his appreciation to the players for their hard work and dedication, he hopes that relationships formed between players and coaches will go beyond wins and losses.

Coach's Comment

This year's team was one of the most enjoyable I have coached. The players worked hard and proved themselves to be an aggressive team. In all they were and are a fine group of women.

Thanks go to this year's seniors; Anne Craft, Crista Jensen, and Lorin Macedo. Congratulations to Linda Bevelander the recipient of the most improved award, and to Cathy Baker, this year's most valuable player.

Girls' Winter Track began with the Falmouth Invitational and winners Anne Jennings and Heidi Thomson. At the end of the season Anne and Heidi were still winning.

Anne Jennings was selected all-schoolastic by the BOSTON GLOBE in the hurdles. Heidi Thomson placed second in the State 50 yard dash; Mary Bunker placed sixth in the hurdles; and the relay team of Cindy Foley, Anne Jennings, and Heidi Thomson placed fourth in the 4 x 440 relay.

During the season Anne Jennings was ranked No. One in the U.S. high schools for the 50 yard hurdles. The 4 x 200m relay team of Jennings, Thomson, Pina, and Bunker was ranked fifth in the U.S. in that event.

Senior Lee Ann Perry ran excellently all winter although she did not place in any major competition she should be commended for her drive and enthusiasm. The season ended with Anne Jennings being selected All-State and the team looking forward to 1981 and getting back to the "speed wars."

Falmouth High School's Wrestling Team had a very successful season. Their season, although only a scrimmage and a tournament proved very exciting. At the Third Annual Cape and Islands Tournament, Chris Cooper and Mick El-Massri both won first place awards, Falmouth also earned seven second place ribbons and two thirds. Falmouth's team, coached by Greg Gilbert, started out very strongly earning a finals berth in nine of the eleven weight classes they had entered. Mr. Gilbert pointed out that "the first round of the tournament showed how explosive a club we really are."

Falmouth's results were as follows: in the 108-pound class Matt Teixeira placed second. In the 115, John McKenzie placed second. In the 122, Chris Cooper earned first place. Phil Walker placed third in the 129. Bill Dlaton took second in the 135. Butch Grant placed second in the 141. Roy Dunning took third in the 148. Craig Martin placed second in the 158. Carlos Santos placed second in the 170. Peter Francis took second in the 188. And Mick El-Massri completely dominated the unlimited weight class.

Coach's Comment

Falmouth again had a winning season with a 7 win-4 loss record and placed 4th at the league meet out of ten schools. Junior, A-A Mary Lou Morton qualified for the State Individual Tournament in Vaulting and also made the All Star Team for the second consecutive year. Junior, A-A Cheryl Pokraka made the All Star Team on the Uneven Bars and Senior, Lori Palmer received Honorable Mention. Falmouth's continuing improvements and some outstanding individual accomplishments have made us a strong opponent in the Southeastern Mass League. Captain Ann Manning and Co-Captain Lori Palmer are to be commended for leading us through a superb season.

MEDICAL CAREERS CLUB

Mmmmmm GOOD!!

The Medical Careers Club changed its name from Future Nurses so that not only those students interested in nursing but also anyone interested in any kind of medical career would have the opportunity to become a part of the hospital community and to decide whether or not they really want a future career in medicine.

Besides helping the nurses at the hospital the club members sponsor fund raising events. This year a bowl-a-thon and a spaghetti dinner contributed to their scholarship fund which will be given to deserving seniors.

Once each month board meetings are held at the hospital. Speakers attend these meetings and discuss their special field of medicine. Twice each month the girls do general night care and the older members do specialty night care at the hospital. The club also participated in the blood mobile.

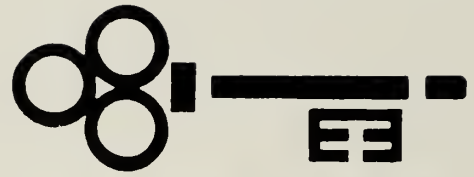

CHIC

Chic is a group of students organized by Ms. Keith who are interested in fashion. Last year they discovered that they were capable of raising funds for a charity. This year they presented a fashion show with fashions from various merchants. All proceeds were donated to muscular dystrophy.

This year the Key Club had another successful and enjoyable year. The club ran the concession stand at the football games, helped out on the fall and spring bloodmobile drives, and at the J.V.-faculty hockey game.

The Key Club-Lookout Club dance was a great time for all, as were the Lookout-Key Club parties.

The Lookout Club had a very busy yet successful year. Beginning in November with their annual fair the club worked hard trying to raise funds for scholarships. Other fundraisers included serving refreshments at Town Meetings, sponsoring their second annual fashion show, and their first roller disco. They also volunteered their time for Christmas Caroling at various nursing homes, collecting door-to-door for the Heart Fund, and helping out with the bloodmobiles. Along with volunteering and fundraising, the Lookout members enjoyed the Lookout-Key Club parties and the Key Club-Lookout Club dance.

This year has been excellent for The Clipper Pit Stop. Advisors to the business class which runs the store, Mr. McKay and Wanda Masch, are very pleased with the students' efforts. In managing the store, the students experienced what it is like to run a business, and how to use profits wisely. This year some of the profits were used for class trips and the rest of the money was reinvested in the store.

Business is booming!

Watching the profits.

FOCUS

Focus on one of the Alternative Programs. Focus students have the opportunity to acquire the normal number of required graduation credits in classes of 12-20 students. Focus students have academic courses in the morning and work at volunteer or paying jobs in the afternoon. Classes emphasize competence in basic and daily living skills.

One of the many service groups at F.H.S. is the A.V. crew. They are responsible for supplying classes with the proper equipment needed as teaching tools. Advised by Mr. Sadoff and Mrs. Fears, they perform an important function.

The lighting and sound crews are also of great value to F.H.S. They provide lighting and sound effects for many events including graduation and the prom.

The AFS Club started off its year with a cook-out at the Quisset Yacht Club with the help of its advisor, Mr. Jones. The AFS students, Carole Ganes and Guiseppe (Beppe) Cavallaro were introduced, as well as Marty, the new assistant advisor. The International Dinner was a great success thanks to Scottish dancers who demonstrated traditional steps along with some original dances.

The club sponsored a car wash on Easter weekend to kick off the spring season. The annual spring cook-out ended the year.

This year's co-presidents were Marge Frosch and Stephanie Stevens; Secretary, Hannah Hosom; and treasurer Fred Thrasher.

SCIENCE CLUB

The Science Club's major event this year was the Science Fair. Credit is given to all members but especially to Mr. Moody and James Myette for their organization of a very successful event. Other functions sponsored by the club were a Chemistry Magic Show with the help from Mr. Hussey and Miss Thivierge, Star parties at which participants located the constellations and a movie called "Great White Sharks — Fact And Fiction." Fund-raising projects included selling refreshments, constellation maps, and club T-shirts which have a lunatic clutching a test tube appliquéd on it with the caption "Try it, you'll like it!" They also had two field trips: one to the Museum of Science and one to the Harvard Museum of Comparative Zoology.

CHORUS

This year's chorus, directed by Miss Carol Sykes, was very active in both its singing and fund-raising activities. To defray the cost of the annual Exchange Concert with another high school, the group sold scented candles. (The practice room in which they were stored will never smell the same!) Besides the Exchange with Clairmont, N.H., the group gave various performances including both a Christmas concert and a spring production.

CHESS TEAM

Led by advisor Elmer Ross, the chess team had a very successful year. They kept up their winning reputation by ending the season with an impressive record of five wins and only a single loss, which enabled them to compete in the play-offs.

MATH TEAM

The math team also had yet another winning group, proving that F.H.S. is strong in academic competition as well as athletic. The mathematicians showed a lot of school spirit and the seniors will be leaving behind them a promising bunch to carry on next year.

Besides meets among F.H.S. students, one meet was held in the auditorium. To be noted for their outstanding accomplishments are freshman Erik Hobbie and Pat Eagen.

DEBATE TEAM

SENIOR HONOR SOCIETY

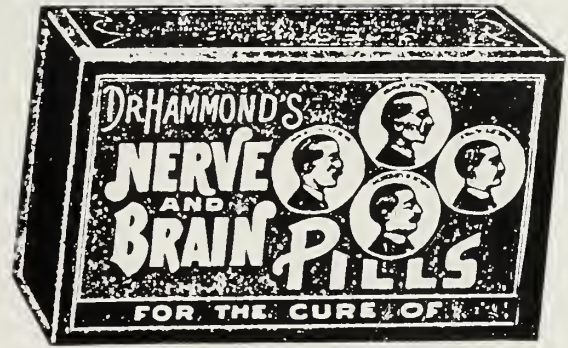

OFFICERS: Secretary-Treasurer Adria Bowin, President Greg Gonye, Vice-President Sean Tavares.

The Honor Society under the direction of Adele Rohe sponsored some new and innovative activities this year. One was Hat Day on which many donned their headdresses. A prize was awarded for the most original hat, and candy was distributed to those who wore them.

Another new idea was Flower Day. Orders were taken for carnations to be delivered on Valentine's Day. Four different colors were available, depending on what message the sender wanted to get across.

Falmouth High's stage was transformed into the streets of the Gay 90's in Paris for this year's All-School musical "Can-Can" by Cole Porter. The production was different this year in that it was held in February instead of the usual November or December. This change in seasons provided unforeseen complications, however, as a raging snowstorm postponed opening night. Also, illness raged rampant throughout the cast and crew and threatened to cancel the play completely, but, luckily, that old trite but true saying "the show must go on" was held up once more and the play was a rousing success.

The actors and actresses of Falmouth High School were successful in the Boston Globe's Drama Festival competition. The play Jean-Claude Van Itale's "Interview", deals with man's inability to communicate; each character in the play sees life as a series of interviews during which he must prove himself to be acceptable by the rest of the world. "Interview" was a winning play at the regional competitions. Each member of the cast won an acting award. The semi-finals were a repeat of the regionals with individual acting awards again being presented to the cast. The finals were held at the John Hancock Hall in Boston. "Interview" was not victorious; however, each member of the cast was named to the Massachusetts All-State Cast. The highly successful members of "Interview" cast were: Nina Murphy, Erik Stephens, Vincent Myette, Joan O'Connell, Ashley Edwards, Phil Anderson, Anne Pellegrini, and Loren Gibbons.

Moderator Lisa Brunette

This year's three town meetings covered many different articles. Some dealt with changing school policy, while others dealt with having new rules added or old ones taken away. Moderator Lisa Brunette and the Warrant Committee worked hard to make this year's school government successful.

M * A * S * H

This year's senior class decided to break with tradition, and instead of the usual musical, performed the comedy M*A*S*H. It was the perfect choice, as four big audiences found out. The play is about teamwork in a wartime medical unit, and the Class of '80 under the direction of Sarah Bunkley and senior Chris Paine, "raved on" and showed everyone what teamwork is all about. The ad-libs and goof-ups that occurred provided the cast with laughs which they will always remember: Greg breaking the cot, The Bonwit Sisters, Bob's potato chips, The Bonwit Sisters, Mike and his Playboy magazine, The Bonwit Sisters . . . lots of memories.

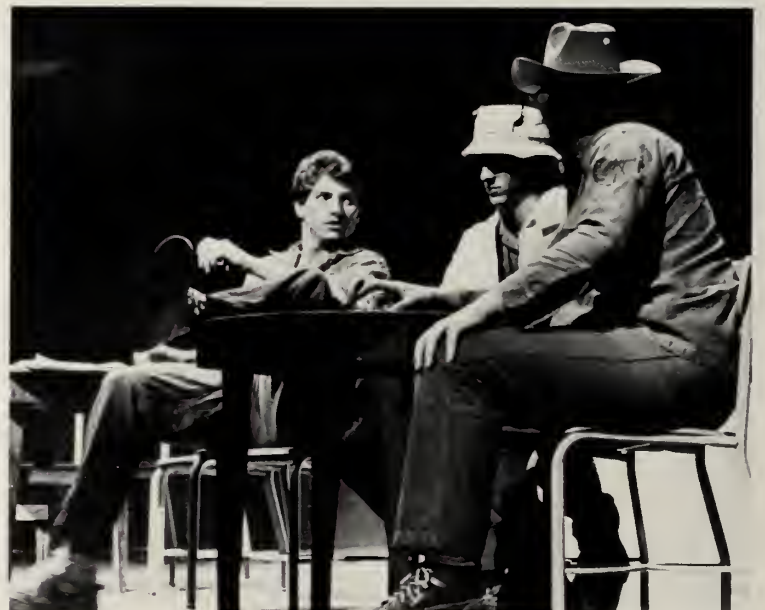

When we, the seniors, sail on into the world, let us always keep a bit of the spirit of M*A*S*H in our hearts, and remember, we're still a bunch of weirdos, but we're gonna miss each other.

SENIOR PROM

Red, gold, and white were the colors of this year's "Always and Forever" Prom. The dance was held on May 17, which luckily was a beautiful night. The bands were "Horse" and "Sound Machine", and the latter picked for our Queen Judy Woods and as Court Members Debi Sachs, Jackie Volpe, Bettian Rubino, and Ann Jarvis. It was a perfect Prom that the junior class should be proud of.

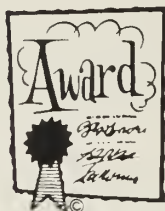

AWARDS NIGHT

Dr. Clark addresses the class on their last night before graduation

Awards night was held on Thursday, May 29 and was the final event during Graduation before the big event the following night. The Class of 1980 received more aid than any previous class, and it was really enjoyable to see friends get their scholarships. Dr. Clark and the three House Administrators all spoke to the group and the Falmouth High School Chamber Choir performed. You certainly could feel excitement in the air as you left the auditorium that night knowing that the next time you'd be in it would be for Graduation Line-Up!

SENIOR BANQUET

Over 300 seniors attended the Senior Banquet this year held at the Steakery. Yet another tradition was broken by not holding it at the Seacrest. While the members of the Class of '80 ate either prime rib or shrimp, they had a chance to reminisce about old times and compare thoughts of the future. Then there was dancing to the music of "Lady Luck". All in all, the Senior Banquet was filled with many memories for many people.

SAIL ON!

IT'S OVER

*Best of friends, never part
Class of '80 started together,
We'll stick together with our hearts.
So why pretend? This is the end.
We'll have to find out for ourselves
Going on to somewhere else.*

*So why can't you just get it through your heads
It's over, it's over now
Yes, you heard us clearly now, we said:
It's over, it's over now.
We're not really over school
You might say that we can't take it,
We can't take it, No, we swear we just can't take it no more.*

*Goin' away, so far away,
It's too late to turn back now,
And it don't matter anyhow
'Cause we'll leave,
And we'll be missed
Won't go on the same old way,
'Cause it's our graduation day!
Boz Scaggs*

Superintendent Berquist, Dr. Clark, Mrs. Norton, seniors and friends, it is a pleasure to be here, and an honor, and also a surprise.

Fifteen years ago, as I sat among the graduates of the class of 1965, I was quite sure of two things: that it was my last high school graduation, and that I was leaving Falmouth for good. As you can see, it hasn't worked out that way.

It's been a long, strange trip, as they say, from that side of the podium, to this. And it started out, as I planned, on the other side of the bridge.

For twelve years I worked on that side of the world, in Washington and Philadelphia, and Boston, in Congress, in the Senate, in journalism, in the federal courts.

I found there is a glitter to these sites of power, a sense of glamour and importance. Highly paid people being whisked here and there, important reports written and read, meetings, media, big decisions, weighty matters.

And yet, when you look at where the major changes in our society have come from, you will find that none of them originated in these places where all the attention has been paid.

The civil rights movement, the women's liberation movement, the anti-war efforts of the 60's, the environmental movement, Proposition 13, the right to life organizations, the anti-nuclear crusade — all of these started far outside the halls of power, far from the center of government.

Significant ideas for change never come from the established order. They always come from the grass roots, from the people who care about each other, about their surroundings, and think they can make a difference.

These are the people I found in Falmouth. Here, people are known for who they are and what they give, not where they work or what they make. Here, people care about land, and the past, and each other.

Here, people still have a sense of control, a sense of their own community, a sense of their own values.

Here, I thought, I could make a difference.

Here I found my roots.

Your roots are here too. Those acres of fields in East Falmouth — they were woods once, cleared tree by tree, stump by stump, by Costas, Cardozas, Gonsalves and Rapozas. The most distinguished oceanographic complex in the world is in Woods Hole, built up by Bumpuses and Foffonofs and Vacaros. Those stone walls winding through the woods of West Falmouth — they were lugged there, stone by stone, by Crockers and Giffords, Swifts and Bowmans. Chapoquoit and Menahaunt, Waquoit and Sipewissott — they were named centuries ago by the ancestors of today's Hendricks and Peters and Mills.

As Falmouth High School graduates, you are a part of this place, and whether you stay, or go away to school, or come back on weekends, or never come back for a dozen years — whenever you do come back you will find, as I did, that you never really left.

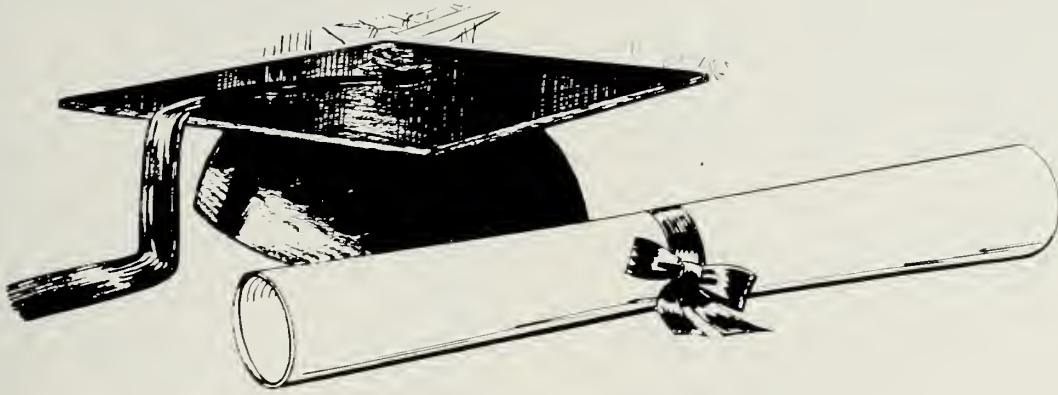

This is your land, these are your people. And if there is to be any change in the human spirit in America in the last quarter of the 20th century, it won't start in Washington, or New York, or Boston. It won't come from HUD, EDA, or HEW, or CBS, or NBC, or Travelers, or Exxon, or McDonalds.

When the change comes, it will come in spite of the corporate marketing strategies and the bureaucratic decrees and the economic manipulators who have put us where we are today.

When the change comes, it will be when people realize that their only salvation lies in themselves, and that together they can make it happen.

When the change comes, it will come first in communities like ours, small places with people who know their past, know their neighbors, and know their own values to be true.

And when the change comes, I look forward to sharing it with you.

The road ahead may appear long
But time passes quickly.
The dream of graduation
Quickly becomes a reality.
The security of family and friends left behind
The unknown ahead.
The promises of success
The possibilities of failure.
All too soon graduation day is upon us
Our friends we shall not forget
For in these photographs — memories linger.

From the Desk of the Advisor

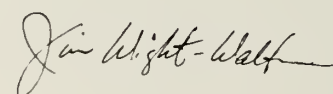

July 1980

There is a handful of talented individuals who deserve special recognition. They spent many hours in the dark this past year in order to make this book a reality. Picture editors Sharon Almeida, Dede Hampton and Tom Wye along with Bret Bowin, Mary Bunker, Brian Guest and the photographers listed below did what no Clipper Compact staff had done before . . . with the exception of some group pictures and senior pictures they photographed, developed and printed all of the pictures appearing in this book – color included! No small task!

I would especially like to thank Sharon & Dede for organizing, for becoming overwrought at times and for staying calm at others, and most of all for helping me worry. They carried the bulk of the load and did a remarkable job . . . and thanks also to Tom for spending a good deal of his February vacation doing the color prints for the “scrapbook” section.

And to the section editors, Thank You . . .

- . . . to Tricia Boudrot, for doing the senior section while on vacation in Florida!
- . . . to Kim Kelley and Bret Bowin, for being as thorough and dependable as I could expect two people to be.
- . . . to Laurie Rebello, for the creation and design of our posters.
- . . . to Alice Wilkinson and Ivey Schmitz, for getting their layouts done, though they weren't always sure which ones were supposed to be done.
- . . . to Denise Mongeau, Liz McMillen, Crystal Martin and Steve Tessier for diligently creating order out of chaos with the underclassmen and teacher sections . . . and to Steve for not having a 1st name beginning with “M”.
- . . . to our Editors-in-Chief Hannah Hosom and Alana Thorpe for their organization, direction and undaunted good spirits throughout the year.
- and finally, to the staff as a group, congratulations on putting together a fine book.
